REPORT OF PROGRAM

Introduction: The Umbrella Painting Program was organized with the goal of fostering creativity, artistic expression, and teamwork among participants. This event provided an opportunity for students, faculty, and local community members to engage in a fun and artistic activity, while simultaneously promoting environmental awareness through the symbolic representation of protection and sustainability.

Date: 30-08-2018 to 04-09-2018

Venue: CRDPG College

Objective: The primary objective of the program was to encourage participants to explore their artistic skills through the medium of umbrella painting. The theme of the event centered around nature, sustainability, and the significance of shelter, allowing participants to express their thoughts on these topics creatively.

Participation: A diverse group of participants, including students from various departments, faculty members, and local artists, took part in the event. In total, 30 participants registered, each receiving an umbrella and painting supplies, including brushes and eco-friendly paints.

Program Details:

1. Inauguration: The event was inaugurated by Dr. Aparna Mishra, who emphasized the importance of art in education and the need for creative outlets that raise awareness of environmental issues.
2. Workshop: Prior to the painting session, a short workshop was conducted by Dr. Rekha Rani Sharma who guided participants on basic painting techniques, colour mixing, and how to best utilize the space on their umbrella canvas.
3. Painting Session: Participants were given two hours to paint their umbrellas. The themes revolved around sustainability, nature, rain, and personal interpretations of protection, freedom, and creativity. The colorful designs that emerged showcased a wide variety of interpretations, ranging from intricate patterns to bold environmental messages.
4. Judging and Exhibition: Once the painting session was completed, the umbrellas were displayed in a designated area for viewing. A panel of judges, including art teachers and local artists, evaluated the designs based on creativity, technique, and thematic relevance.

Outcome:

- The program was a great success, with participants expressing high levels of satisfaction.
- Participants displayed extraordinary creativity in their designs, with many embracing the theme of sustainability in imaginative ways.
- The event strengthened the bond between students And faculty

REPORT OF PROGRAM

Report on Napkin Folding Skills Program:-

The Napkin Folding Skills Program was organized on 01-09-2018 in college campus to provide participants with practical training in the art of napkin folding. The objective of the program was to enhance creativity and fine motor skills, while also teaching an elegant and useful skill often utilized in hospitality and event management.

Objective:-The primary focus of the program was to introduce participants to various napkin folding techniques that can be applied in dining settings, enhancing table presentation in formal and casual events. It also aimed at fostering creativity and attention to detail among the participants.

Program Highlights:

1. Introduction to Napkin Folding: The program began with a brief introduction to the importance of napkin folding in hospitality, emphasizing how a well-folded napkin can enhance a dining experience. The trainer demonstrated basic folds such as the "Bishop's Hat," "Fan Fold," and "Rose Fold."
2. Hands-on Practice: Participants were provided with napkins and guided through the process of folding them into different designs. The hands-on training allowed them to grasp each technique and apply their creativity by experimenting with their own folds.
3. Soft Skills Development: The session also promoted soft skills such as attention to detail, patience, and following instructions. Participants learned to be precise and careful, improving their focus and fine motor coordination.
4. Creativity and Customization: After mastering the basic techniques, participants were encouraged to innovate and create personalized napkin folds that reflected their creativity. This helped in developing their problem-solving skills and ability to adapt instructions creatively.

Conclusion:- The Napkin Folding Skills Program was successful in teaching participants practical and creative skills that can be applied in both personal and professional settings. The event concluded with a display of the various napkin folds created by participants, showcasing their newly acquired skills. Feedback from the attendees was highly positive, with many expressing their intention to use these skills in future events and gatherings.

REPORT OF PROGRAM

Report on Food Without Fire Program

The "Food Without Fire" program was conducted on [insert date] at [insert venue] as a creative culinary workshop that aimed to teach participants how to prepare delicious and nutritious meals without the use of cooking appliances like stoves, ovens, or microwaves. The program focused on health, creativity, and sustainability, encouraging participants to explore raw or minimally processed food options.

Objective: The main objective of the program was to introduce participants to the concept of raw and fireless cooking, demonstrating that healthy, nutritious, and tasty meals can be made without conventional cooking methods. The program also aimed at promoting awareness about the benefits of consuming fresh, raw ingredients.

Program Overview:

- 1. Introduction: The program began with a session on the importance of raw food in maintaining health, where nutritionists and chefs explained the benefits of consuming food in its natural state. The idea of minimal processing and fireless cooking was emphasized as an easy, energy-efficient, and nutritious approach to meal preparation.
- 2. Live Demonstrations: Several fireless recipes were demonstrated, such as fruit salads, sandwiches, no-bake desserts, cold soups, and energy bites. Participants were given step-by-step instructions on preparing these dishes, focusing on the use of fresh fruits, vegetables, grains, and nuts.
- 3. Hands-on Experience: After the demonstrations, participants had the opportunity to create their own "Food Without Fire" dishes using the ingredients provided. They were encouraged to innovate and personalize their dishes, which resulted in a variety of creative salads, wraps, smoothies, and desserts.
- 4. Health and Sustainability Focus: The program also highlighted the environmental benefits of preparing food without fire, reducing energy consumption and promoting sustainable eating habits. The importance of eating fresh, locally sourced ingredients was stressed throughout the event.

Outcome: The "Food Without Fire" program was highly successful in demonstrating the simplicity and benefits of raw cooking. Participants left with new ideas and recipes that they could easily incorporate into their daily routines. The event also fostered a greater understanding of nutrition, promoting healthier eating habits among attendees.

Conclusion: This program showcased that preparing healthy, delicious meals does not always require fire or heat, and can be an enjoyable, quick, and eco-friendly alternative. Feedback from participants was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing enthusiasm for the recipes they learned and the knowledge they gained about nutrition and sustainability.
