3. Review and revision every two years.

4. Provide educational resources and training on IPR for creators, businesses, and legal professionals.

In summary, IPR policies play a vital role in supporting and protecting intellectual creations, fostering innovation, and ensuring fair competition. By implementing comprehensive and adaptive policies, governments, organizations, and individuals can effectively manage and leverage their intellectual assets, contributing to a dynamic and competitive global economy.

In the 2021-22 academic years, CRD PG College established an Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) Cell to foster innovation and protect intellectual property created by its students and faculty. The cell aimed to educate members about IPR laws, assist with patent applications, and promote a culture of research and development. This initiative was part of the college's ultimate goal to enhance academic and practical contributions to the field of intellectual property.

• Members Of IPR Cell

Dr. Suman Singh (Principal)

Dr. Rekha Srivastava (IQAC Quardinator)

Dr. Sarika Jaiswal(Assistant Professor)

Dr. Anita Singh (Assistant Professor)

Miss. Archana Srivastava (Assistant Professor)

An Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) Cell is an institutional body designed to support and manage intellectual property assets. It typically handles tasks such as educating members about IPR laws, assisting with patent, trademark, and copyright applications, and ensuring compliance with legal standards. The cell aims to safeguard innovations, encourage research and development, and maximize the commercial potential of intellectual properties. Its ultimate goal is to foster a culture of creativity and innovation while protecting the rights of creators and inventors.
