REPORT OF HOME SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Home Science Department organized a seven-day workshop in Ghunghunkotha Village focused on the art of cutting and stitching garments. The workshop aimed to provide practical skills in garment construction to local participants, enhancing their abilities to create well-fitted, durable clothing while also promoting self-sufficiency and craftsmanship within the community.

The seven-day workshop in Ghunghunkotha Village provided participants with a comprehensive understanding of garment cutting and stitching techniques. By combining theoretical instruction with hands-on practice, attendees gained valuable skills that enhance their ability to create quality clothing. The workshop promoted self-reliance and craftsmanship, empowering participants to apply their new program.

on Different types of Weaving

09/03/2022 – 13/03/2022

Mentor- Dr. Anita Singh,

Assistant Professor, CRDAM P.G. College, Gorakhpur

Organize by DEPARTMENT OF HOME SCIENCE

The Home Science Department conducted a five-day workshop focused on various weaving techniques, designed to offer participants both theoretical insights and practical experience in this traditional craft. The workshop aimed to enhance participants' skills in different weaving methods, enabling them to create intricate and functional textile pieces.

The five-day workshop successfully provided participants with a thorough understanding of various weaving techniques. Through a combination of theoretical knowledge and hands-on practice, attendees gained the skills to explore and apply different weaving methods in their projects. The workshop fostered creativity and technical proficiency, empowering participants to further their weaving interests and skills.

REPORT OF COMPUTER -DEPARTMENT

C and C++ are foundational programming languages that have significantly influenced modern software development and computer science education. At CRD PG College, these languages are integral parts of the computer science and engineering curriculum. This report provides an overview of how C and C++ are incorporated into the college's academic programs, the effectiveness of teaching methods, challenges faced, and recommendations for improvement.

Curriculum Overview

1. Course Structure

- Introduction to C Programming:
 - Topics Covered: Basics of syntax, data types, operators, control structures (if, switch, loops), functions, arrays, pointers, and file handling.
 - Objectives: To build a strong foundation in programming logic and problem-solving skills.
- Advanced C Programming:
 - Topics Covered: Dynamic memory allocation, data structures (linked lists, stacks, queues), and more complex file handling.
 - Objectives: To deepen understanding of memory management and data structures.
- Introduction to C++ Programming:
 - Topics Covered: Object-oriented programming (OOP) principles, classes and objects, inheritance, polymorphism, encapsulation, and templates.
 - Objectives: To introduce students to OOP concepts and design patterns in C++.
- Advanced C++ Programming:
 - Topics Covered: Advanced OOP features, exception handling, STL (Standard Template Library), and multi-threading.
 - Objectives: To explore advanced programming techniques and improve software design skills.

2. Practical Components

- Laboratories: Hands-on sessions where students apply theoretical knowledge to solve problems and complete projects.
- Assignments and Projects: Individual and group projects that involve real-world problems, encouraging collaborative and independent problem-solving skills.
- Exams and Assessments: Regular quizzes, mid-term exams, and final exams to evaluate students' understanding and application of concepts.
