NOTICE

Subject: Faculty Development Program on “Student Engagement and Support”

Dear Faculty Members,

It is with great enthusiasm that I announce the upcoming Faculty Development Program (FDP) on “Student Engagement and Support,” organized by Chandrakanti Ramawati Devi Arya Mahila P.G. College, Gorakhpur. This program is scheduled to take place from 03-09-2020 to 07-09-2020 (5 days) and aims to equip our faculty with innovative strategies and tools to enhance student engagement and provide effective support. In an educational landscape that is constantly evolving, fostering meaningful student engagement and offering robust support are crucial for academic success and student well-being.

Objectives of the FDP:

The primary objectives of this FDP are as follows:

1. To Enhance Student Engagement Strategies: Equip faculty members with innovative and effective strategies for increasing student engagement in both traditional and online classroom settings.
2. To Develop Support Mechanisms: Provide faculty with tools and techniques for identifying and addressing the academic, emotional, and social needs of students, thereby fostering a supportive learning environment.
3. To Promote Active Learning: Encourage the adoption of active learning methodologies that involve students in the learning process, making them active participants rather than passive recipients of knowledge.
4. To Improve Communication and Mentorship: Strengthen communication skills and mentoring abilities among faculty members, enabling them to build stronger relationships with students and offer personalized guidance.
5. To Foster Inclusivity and Equity: Promote practices that ensure all students, regardless of their backgrounds or abilities, have equal opportunities to succeed in their academic pursuits.

Key Topics to be covered:

This FDP will cover a broad range of topics that are essential for enhancing student engagement and support, including:

1. Understanding Student Needs: Gain insights into the diverse needs of students, including academic, emotional, and social factors that affect their learning and well-being. Learn how to identify signs of disengagement and address them proactively.
2. Innovative Teaching Techniques: Explore various teaching techniques and pedagogical approaches that promote active participation, critical thinking, and collaboration among students. These may include flipped classrooms, project-based learning, and the use of educational technology.
3. Creating an Inclusive Classroom: Understand the principles of inclusivity in education and learn how to create a classroom environment that respects and values diversity. This includes accommodating different learning styles and providing support for students with special needs.
4. Using Technology for Engagement: Discover how to effectively integrate technology into the classroom to enhance student engagement. This includes the use of digital tools, online platforms, and interactive media to create dynamic and interactive learning experiences.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, I strongly encourage all faculty members to participate in this FDP on “Student Engagement and Support.” As educators, our primary goal is to help our students succeed, both academically and personally. By enhancing our skills in student engagement and support, we can create a more inclusive, supportive, and engaging learning environment that will empower our students to achieve their full potential. Your active participation in this FDP will contribute significantly to the continuous improvement of our educational practices and the overall success of our students.

Objectives of the FDP:

The primary objectives of this FDP are as follows:

1. To Raise Awareness of Sustainable Development: Provide faculty members with a comprehensive understanding of the concept of sustainable development and its relevance to education.
2. To Integrate Sustainability into the Curriculum: Equip faculty with the tools and techniques necessary to incorporate sustainability principles into their courses, making sustainability a core component of our educational programs.
3. To Promote Interdisciplinary Teaching and Learning: Encourage interdisciplinary approaches to teaching and learning, where sustainability is addressed from multiple perspectives, including environmental science, social science, economics, and ethics.
4. To Foster Critical Thinking and Problem-Solving: Develop faculty members' ability to engage students in critical thinking and problem-solving related to sustainability challenges, preparing them to be active participants in the quest for sustainable solutions.
5. To Encourage Research on Sustainability: Inspire faculty members to undertake research on topics related to sustainable development, contributing to the body of knowledge that supports sustainable practices in various fields.

Key Topics to be Covered:

This FDP will address a wide range of topics essential for understanding and promoting sustainable development through education, including:

1. Understanding Sustainable Development: Gain insights into the key principles and goals of sustainable development, including the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Understand the interconnections between environmental, social, and economic dimensions of sustainability.
2. Education for Sustainable Development (ESD): Explore the concept of Education for Sustainable Development (ESD), which emphasizes the integration of sustainability into teaching and learning. Learn how to design curricula that promote sustainable thinking and practices among students.
3. Environmental Sustainability: Delve into the importance of environmental sustainability, including the preservation of natural resources, the reduction of carbon footprints, and the promotion of renewable energy. Understand the role of education in fostering environmental stewardship.

Overview of the Program:

In the current digital era, technology has become an integral part of education, transforming traditional teaching methods and expanding the possibilities for interactive and personalized learning. The ongoing global pandemic has further underscored the importance of being proficient in technology-enabled teaching methodologies. This FDP aims to provide our faculty with hands-on experience and in-depth understanding of various digital tools, platforms, and pedagogical strategies that can significantly enhance both in-person and online teaching.

Objectives:

The specific objectives of the FDP are as follows:

1. Understanding Modern Educational Technologies: To familiarize faculty members with the latest educational technologies and tools that can be integrated into their teaching practices.
2. Enhancing Digital Pedagogy Skills: To provide practical training on how to effectively use digital platforms, Learning Management Systems (LMS), and online resources to create engaging and interactive learning environments.
3. Promoting Collaborative Learning: To explore strategies for fostering collaboration among students through technology, encouraging peer learning, and enhancing student engagement.
4. Assessment and Evaluation: To discuss innovative methods for assessing and evaluating student performance in a technology-enabled learning environment.
5. Blended and Flipped Learning: To introduce faculty to the concepts of blended learning and flipped classrooms, which combine traditional teaching with digital resources to create a more flexible and student-centered learning experience.

Key Features of the Program:

The FDP will feature a combination of expert-led sessions, hands-on workshops, and interactive discussions. Some of the key topics that will be covered include:

- Introduction to Technology-Enabled Teaching and Learning: Understanding the role of technology in modern education and its impact on the teaching-learning process.
- Learning Management Systems (LMS): Practical sessions on the use of popular LMS platforms such as Moodle, Google Classroom, and Microsoft Teams for course management, content delivery, and student assessment.
